

Amanda Fernandez

Graphic Design
Class of 2017

I grew up in Stratford, CT and initially went to Housatonic Community College for my Associate's in Graphic Design. When looking at schools to achieve my BFA, I attended a few open houses at colleges in both New York and Connecticut. I was immediately drawn to SASD due to the varying skillsets they taught.

Upon starting at SASD, I had a chance to work on exciting projects and was truly challenged by my professors to create better and better work.

During my time at SASD, I restarted the Graphic Design Club with a few of my friends and ran it as President my senior year. I also did an internship with one of my professors where I learned how to work a letterpress and general bookbinding techniques.

SASD has allowed me to grow as a designer and really bring my skills to a new level—I'm very thankful I chose to attend SASD!
